An exciting opportunity has arisen for a Clinical Nurse Specialist in Paediatric HIV and Infectious Diseases to join our Paediatric Infectious Diseases team within Pennine.

We are looking for an experienced, highly motivated, innovative and flexible paediatric nurse to join our team. You will be required to have substantial knowledge of working with children and young families with chronic health conditions in order to work together to provide coordination of the care for children with HIV and other infectious diseases in Greater Manchester. It is important that you are able to work autonomously and provide strong leadership, professional advice and clinical expertise enabling the best care, the best environment and best patient’s experience whilst delivering the Trust quality agenda.

Pennine acute hospitals trust is a progressive healthcare provider, which values and actively invests in our services. As such we see the Infectious Diseases service as an essential element of workforce strategy. The Regional Infectious Diseases Unit for Greater Manchester and the surrounding area is based at North Manchester General Hospital. We actively believe in the development of our Paediatric Infectious Diseases service as being crucial to our service provision.

The Trust supports individuals through the development of their clinical practice. As such, your knowledge of HIV and infectious diseases will develop through the inclusion of an individual learning pathway and clinical supervision by clinical specialists and in both adult and Paediatric care.

The role involves working both in the hospital children’s outpatients clinic, in the community and on the children’s ward. Our large paediatric HIV cohort makes up the majority of the work. In the role you will gain a wide variety of experience within different areas of speciality include TB, viral hepatitis, antimicrobial stewardship, travel and tropical diseases.
