

Your Key Worker – Supporting you during your Urology Cancer Treatment

An information guide

Your Key Worker – Supporting you during your Urology Cancer Treatment

There is a team of urology specialist nurses who work across the hospitals of the North East Sector of Northern Care Alliance (NCA).

This information sheet is to let you know who your main contact from that team will be (called your 'key worker') and how to contact them, to talk or ask any questions you may have.

You can also contact your key worker for advice, information and support during your cancer treatment. You can talk to your key worker on the phone, or arrange a time to meet them in person.

Some patients go to other hospitals for their treatment. If this is the case you may be allocated a key worker at the hospital you go to, who will then be your main contact, but if you contact us we will still try to help if we can.

The nurses are members of a larger team of specialist professionals involved in treating the type of cancer you have, known as the multi-disciplinary team, or MDT for short - if you would like more information about the MDT you can ask your key worker.

You will also find a list on the back of this form of all the consultants that work within NCA and the other hospitals which work in partnership with them.

Contact details

If your key worker is not available when you ring any of the nurses will be happy to help you.

You may need to leave a message on the answering machine during busy periods. We aim to get back to you within 24 hours (except weekends and bank holidays when we aim to contact you on the next working day).

If you do leave a message please leave your phone number and hospital number (so that we can access your hospital information more quickly).
